yield of cotton in our southern states was trons to judge coolly, fairly and justly whether 4.500,000 bales. Last year nearly 7,000,000 the assassin has actually committed a crime or bales were produced. Looking back over the not! Such an idea could worthily emanate space of twenty years at seems incredible that, only rom a crimina lawyer, who had been acany one could have imagined that slavery was joustomed all his life to stand on senseless and better than liberty, even for cotton planting. In ouldy technicalities, to obstruct the course of .Nature, which enforces morality as she made hattee and prevent criminals from getting their man for freedom, committe no mistakes, dasors, A form o trial is all that is needed! & Whether man plants empires or plants cotton, ir this case. Phongs so much is said about he must do it on right principles or he will g ving the assassin a fair trial, let it be obhave a sore and sorry time of it and will miss served that no fr.al, provided it be conducted crop will approximate 10,000 000 bales. The gravel over the country boring people with conditions of the cotton growing industry are greatly different from the cays when, in a nen it is instated that the assasaway. As a general rule the grand method of of the small farmer, who rents or owns his mod- a echo of the g hborish so commonly employ est bit of land, and who ou tivator it intelli o by small lawyers who love to mouse for gently and economically. A southern journa. than they ever exhibited before. This includes is ", but to prompt execution. Tet the fashalso the negroes, who since their emancipation have come into possession of tens of thousands industry and skill.

The system insures closer and heiter cultivaa cleaner packing and an enhanced price. Authorities have lately piaced the margin of improvement at one cent per pound. Then the attention of cotton planters is being turned to the great economy is see use or improved machinery, reducing labor, preserving the staple and cleaning the fibre. And still further, the great suggestion is now ponderes, throughout the land, of connecting the spinning machine with the gin, and by this means eastering a portion of the advanced price paid for the manufactured article. All this is in the head, the heart and on the hands of the peeple of our southern states. The great cotton exposition, now in progress at Atlanta, is an outerowth of it. The south now means not only to raise cotton but to spin and weave it. The industry is one which has a future beyond a l calculation. The difference in value between the raw and manuthe country has a basis for the development of so prodigious an industry. The south sees that cotton, as a civilised king, is destined to wield a power of which she never dreamed when she vainly tried to make the world bow before him as the bar sarpus pojentate he was in the days when slavery was proclaimed as the foundation of his throne. A COMMON ERBOR.

"The sentimentalism of atemperance" notion that intemperance is a disease and not a vice is what the Santarian justly as is a theory now becoming very prevalent, through which inshristy finds apology and excuse This mischievous, though no doubt kindly meant suggestion, which is the said theme of the reports of superintencents of inchrists homes, and which is often elaborated in lectures on intemperance, is no doubt very combut such sentimentalism or acology for drunknness founded as we believe, much more chievous means of promoting the very evil which it claims to avert. It won d. ndeed, be hrda to imagine a more certain means of enacquired by indulgence, and he may be the servious year at Castle Garden alone ed for as a permanent boarder in some 650,000. inebriate home; pittled and petfed as an Th. managers of the locktown celebration, intimate relations of the individual with base taurants will be able to odge 10,000 more. and vile habits, which relations so seeks recause he has an instinct for such associations. and he does not attempt to ourb if. He li tes down on bad marksmen. Mason is confined the social environment of intemperance, and in a worse cell than Guitean, and fed on poorer cultivates it; in time he becomes infatua ed and besotted with it, and the appetite or drink grows up with the abandonment of selfrespect, of industricus habit, and of the whole character of manhood, and of course at the same time helps that abandenment ou. That the person who gives himself up to these nabits and appetites commonly sullers physical deterioration in proportion to his indu gence; that by persistence his physical struct ture undergoes changes which results in disease: that the progeny of drunkards, or of persons in a state of intoxication, are predisposed to intemperance; that they are particuarly liable to idioor and insanity, or, at best, o feeble intellects and frail bodies is indeed, sainfully true. But to reason rom thes remises that intemperance is to be treated ab nitio as a disease, and not a vice, is to make he will subordinate to habit, is to accept the rogeny of the inebriate as the type of manood, is to assume the incapacity for conscious urpose (the condition of a person n an actual tate of intoxication), as the measure of the uman will. LATELY THE OWN A SECREL NATTRE.
When City Auditor Durkain gets down towards the lottom of the file of resolutions counciliness usually reach ever for their hits, those that sincks take out eight wind hatch-house, and the reporters begin to gather up, litely notes. Lest night was an exception to the ritle. About the customary time for some one to make a notion to adjourn. Mayor Thompson, first reading that socious of the custer defining his duties in this I preficular case, stated that the deputy superintendent of streets had been inestectin of duty for three months; that the council had refused to confirm may appointments of Street Superintendent Eraden, and that consisting should be tone. a number of w torsace, several or whom a called by Maryo.

Further, it was conclusively shown hat Maryo was found to have been in the habit of taking money from street contractors, under the prateine of to the several to the several contractors.

I am therefore constrained to report that the charges have not been sustained, and recommend that further count terallow, of them be indefinitely postponed. Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD GERNES.

When the city and tde had t atahed read in the lat council had refused to confirm a sw appointments of Street Superintendent Braden, and that something should be lime.

After an explanation or two Mr. Hewett moved that the office of deputy street superintendent of the dedired vacant.

This provoked a lively discussion, which except that the criwd in the lobby were wanting, reminded one of the famous mayoralty contest.

Mr. Holman moved to asheed by declaring that both two effices of street superin endent and deputy be decayed vacan.

Mr. Schraes moved to lay on the table for one week; lost by a life wote, as follows: Ayes, Chittanden, Gerdee, Hawelt and Relings, mays, Holman, Honeyman, Keller and Raleigh: Dr. Nicklin was excused from strendance early in the evening.

Mr. Kellagg here remarked that this wote reminded him of the fact that Elwanger had said. "If I go out the wilde business gos with, me, Braden and Chapman and the whole puint," and it looks that way now. sented a new one

My Rakingh moved and Mr. Keller seconded to month ago the Tacoma Lalger had an excellent. article which we laid aside, to be reproduced apon opportunity. The article is on a subject which restee to the welfare of our young nich and the inlustrial development of the county. It is based on correspondence of the low t Hemesland, which itludes to the northwest and discusses the chances for sing homes in Origon and Washington. After speaking of the influx of New England recopie, whose enterprising spirit will add to the future wealth and contribute to the well-teing of the country, the writer in the lows paper says:

Mere the Tacoma Ledger takes up the subject and proceeds as follows:

In a recent article we called the attention of cirreaders to the fact that Roy. G. H. Atkinson, one of the most distinguished, so he is certainly one of the most reliable writers on the resources of the northwest, had put it on record as his fixed opinion that the bost farms of this country were so yet covered with virgin forest grewthe. We ask our young men who are looking for locations in life, for means of perpanent livelihood, who are wondering what nice what ten office, what corporation, what nice casy-going nest of steecures is using to swing open. On golden hinges turning, to give them a compostic do little situation with a fat salary, to put what the Homesteen correspondent and Dr. Atkinson say together, and take a leisurely walk of eight or ten miles in any direction from any town in tireferitory and see for themselves what the hand of industry has done in the direction pointed out by these gentlemen, by those two have gone to work in the way of making themselves self-reliant and independent in the largest frees acceptation of the term.

There is a wonderful are of development just beore the people of the neighwest coast. Coal andron mines, vast lumber mills, faheries and manuactories will be developed in propertions which will sequise for the substance or the team of thousade of people engaged therein the products of the office timper productive qualities.

And those young men who instead of sitting mumbance willing for the fishle goodess of forume to office them to as easy place in the world, take hold of any one at the shousend opportunities which pretent themselves among our fortile lands, and do as hair ancestors did in the forcets of the "severy lastern between the coal of the coal of a dozen. and for themselves will achieve success and what Michtet Co. Agricu trail mades, do their share towards removing from the manner of the American race the charge of shift.

[Correspondence Boston Harald.]
The city of London churches are to be reduced one-half. Within the area of a little more than half a square mile, dealgnaked as "Bondon Within the Walls," there exist no less than forty-sightch arches, which, with St. Faul's, are capeble of accommodating 40,800. The resident population within this area has diminished to 20,000, and the attendance at all the churches, including 81, Faul's, he is shown 18,000. It is proposed to retain only tweive of these churches and to well the remaining thirty-six, by which it is expected at least a militien sterling will be realized; and single useful for the credition of the form and its suburbs.
